Meeting Services Onsite Team Members

This team brings more than 15 years of experience in managing webcasting, AV and various meeting services. Each member is dedicated to ensuring that your event runs flawlessly and is accessible to online audiences. This team manages all live meeting broadcasting needs including setup, monitoring and supporting webcasts as well as all equipment throughout the live presentation.

Overview

Since 1999, Granicus has been providing local and state governments with the solutions they need to make government more open, transparent and accessible to citizens. In 2008, we expanded our offering and created our Meeting Services department to provide turnkey and fully managed services for government agencies. Our goal was to eliminate staff time, make the public meeting process more efficient and streamlined, while making meetings available to broader audiences online.

Having streamed over 295,000 government events over the last 12 years, our professional staff has more experience webcasting for government than any other team. Our team is well prepared to meet any current or future meeting needs from webcasting to onsite lighting services. All of our services include website integrations, data hosting and distribution as well as onsite and remote support.

Michael Doyle, Federal Sales Representative

Michael started at Granicus in 2012 as a member of the Enterprise Sales team, helping to deliver a sole source, turnkey solution to meet the unique needs of federal government agencies.

Tom Duncan, Enterprise Solutions - West Coast

Tom joined Granicus in 1999 and has work with local, state and federal agencies to make public meetings more transparent and accessible. He has helped deliver solutions for nearly 100 Granicus customers including the Iowa and Utah State Legislatures as well as the New Mexico Office of the Governor.

Chris Rynders, Enterprise Solutions - East Coast

Chris came to Granicus in March of 2005 to direct sales for the Eastern U.S. While at Granicus he has developed solutions for over 150 Granicus customers and currently serves as Enterprise Solutions Representative for the local, state, and federal government markets.

Chris Maine, PMP, Program Manager

Chris joined Granicus in 2008 and oversees the Meeting Services department, ensuring that Granicus effectively delivers hands-free, live event solutions to government organizations on-time and within budget.
